Research and academic misconduct at Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine,
Nanyang Technological University-Imperial College London, Singapore

Please find attached Misconduct_LKCMedicine_NTU_ICL_SG.pdf collating putatively systemic research and academic misconduct at LKCMedicine, NTU-ICL, SG, and in collaborations including the School of Biological Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, National University of Singapore, National Neuroscience Institute in Singapore, and A*STAR.

In Part I of this document evidence is presented of gross misconduct perpetrated by a core of 16 Principal Investigators in Singapore. The so-called 'Dementia Consortium' took S$19.4 million of Singapore's money in a grant probably called AcRF Tier 3 Defining the brain circuitry defects that cause dementia; due to systemic obfuscation practiced by the perpetrators this information cannot be verified from what the perpetrators chose to disclose. The grant was announced in 2018 and again in 2020. This grant, apparently allocated for developing resources in Singapore, was not used for the intended purpose. Arguably, nothing demonstrable and of note was done with the money.

Ancillary findings in Part I include that individuals who are meant to safeguard due process and the integrity of human and animal research activity in Singapore are the same individuals who are breaching it, such as violations of publisher guidelines in the editorial practice of the Head of the 'Dementia Consortium' who is a professor at LKCMedicine NTU-ICL SG, a celebrated neurologist affiliated in one way or another with almost all institutes of research and higher education in Singapore as well as the Singapore Ministry of Health, National University Health System, so on, and who absurdly discloses financial and conflict of interest declarations in publications and in relation to major pharmaceutical corporations; a faculty member who is also on the animal ethics board and so his role in potentially approving his own meagre and substandard work and that of others in the 'Dementia Consortium' is unknown; a faculty member who appears to have two personas at nothing less than the National University of Singapore - assuming that is not the case we should not be in a situation where this is even contemplable; a long-standing head of department also at nothing less than the National University of Singapore who appears to be running a thesis mill; and a student at LKCMedicine, NTU-ICL, SG who claimed she had attained a doctorate while under the supervision of one Principal Investigator, and after publishing one review article with a second PI, and a bizarre article with a third PI, and she had not produced a doctoral thesis. These are just few examples.

In Part II evidence is presented of gross misconduct in the research and education activities of two faculty members of Nanyang Technological University and over a period of about a decade. These individuals have been receiving grants, producing extremely substandard work rife with indisputable scientific evidence of misconduct, duplicating this substandard work in articles published in indexed and non-indexed scientific journals and doctoral theses, obfuscating this substandard work in scientific terminology and incommensurate statistics, misreporting or forging administrative details such as official experimental protocol, grant details, and metadata in the Nanyang Technological University repository (DR-NTU), and subverting efforts towards quality education and research in Singapore by demoralizing bachelor degree students. The co-authors of these two individuals received monies and credit for questionable work produced at Nanyang Technological University, and it is unclear if these co-authors were even in Singapore at the purported time of production of said substandard and duplicated work. Some bachelor degree students showed admirable resistance to dishonest work in their final year projects.

Part III is conflict of interest disclosure by the author.

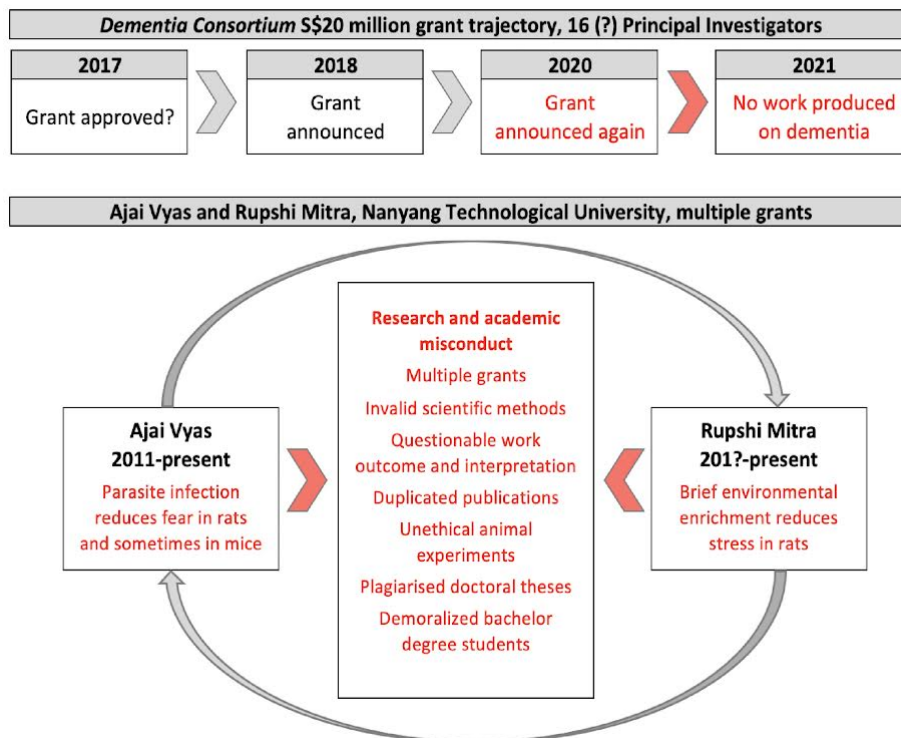

The quantity of resources which must have been thrown to silence, harass, and evict me is flattering. If the addressees are in a position to exert influence I would be grateful.

Yours faithfully,
Mohamed Helmy

Thank you for your message, Professor Paolo.

Does ICL not have any say or influence on what is going on at NTU-ICL? Is it acceptable for ICL to be associated with, indeed have their name on an institution which engages in gross research and academic misconduct, illegal animal experiments, demoralisation of students, overt financial mismanagement of grant money, and criminal abuse of employees who are forced to report this misconduct?

NTU-ICL is an 'autonomous institute' and I am starting to believe this means 'above the law' though formally I understand it should indicate 'self-regulation'. What I expect from ICL is to hold their colleagues, collaborators, and corporate partners at NTU-ICL accountable for research and academic activity per NTU-ICL policy. Corrective action does not require a legal mechanism, for example addressing slander of the affiliation, it may occur within our community, or am I misled regarding our community's priorities?

Research and academic misconduct at Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine,
Nanyang Technological University-Imperial College London, Singapore

Please find attached Misconduct_LKCMedicine_NTU_ICL_SG.pdf collating putatively systemic research and academic misconduct at LKCMedicine, NTU-ICL, SG, and in collaborations including the School of Biological Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, National University of Singapore, National Neuroscience Institute in Singapore, and A*STAR.

In Part I of this document evidence is presented of gross misconduct perpetrated by a core of 16 Principal Investigators in Singapore. The so-called 'Dementia Consortium' took S$19.4 million of Singapore's money in a grant probably called AcRF Tier 3 Defining the brain circuitry defects that cause dementia; due to systemic obfuscation practiced by the perpetrators this information cannot be verified from what the perpetrators chose to disclose. The grant was announced in 2018 and again in 2020. This grant, apparently allocated for developing resources in Singapore, was not used for the intended purpose. Arguably, nothing demonstrable and of note was done with the money.

Ancillary findings in Part I include that individuals who are meant to safeguard due process and the integrity of human and animal research activity in Singapore are the same individuals who are breaching it, such as violations of publisher guidelines in the editorial practice of the Head of the 'Dementia Consortium' who is a professor at LKCMedicine NTU-ICL SG, a celebrated neurologist affiliated in one way or another with almost all institutes of research and higher education in Singapore as well as the Singapore Ministry of Health, National University Health System, so on, and who absurdly discloses financial and conflict of interest declarations in publications and in relation to major pharmaceutical corporations; a faculty member who is also on the animal ethics board and so his role in potentially approving his own meagre and substandard work and that of others in the 'Dementia Consortium' is unknown; a faculty member who appears to have two personas at nothing less than the National University of Singapore - assuming that is not the case we should not be in a situation where this is even contemplable; a long-standing head of department also at nothing less than the National University of Singapore who appears to be running a thesis mill; and a student at LKCMedicine, NTU-ICL, SG who claimed she had attained a doctorate while under the supervision of one Principal Investigator, and after publishing one review article with a second PI, and a bizarre article with a third PI, and she had not produced a doctoral thesis. These are just few examples.

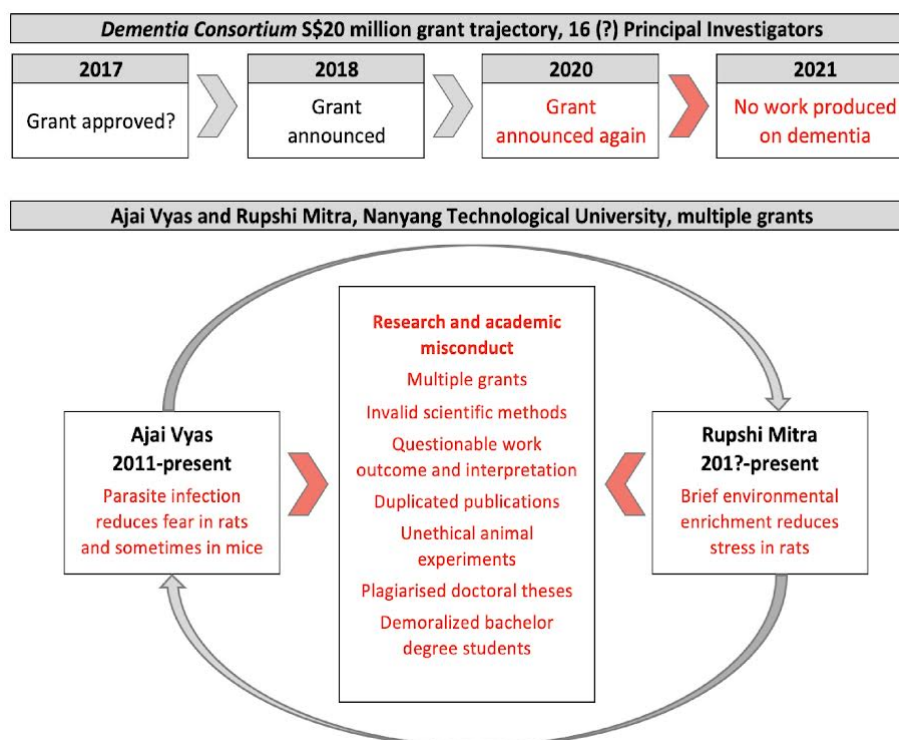

In Part II evidence is presented of gross misconduct in the research and education activities of two faculty members of Nanyang Technological University and over a period of about a decade. These individuals have been receiving grants, producing extremely substandard work rife with indisputable scientific evidence of misconduct, duplicating this substandard work in articles published in indexed and non-indexed scientific journals and doctoral theses, obfuscating this substandard work in scientific terminology and incommensurate statistics, misreporting or forging administrative details such as official experimental protocol, grant details, and metadata in the Nanyang Technological University repository (DR-NTU), and subverting efforts towards quality education and research in Singapore by demoralizing bachelor degree students. The co-authors of these two individuals received monies and credit for questionable work produced at Nanyang Technological University, and it is unclear if these co-authors were even in Singapore at the purported time of production of said substandard and duplicated work. Some bachelor degree students showed admirable resistance to dishonest work in their final year projects.

Part III is conflict of interest disclosure by the author.

The quantity of resources which must have been thrown to silence, harass, and evict me is flattering. If the addressees are in a position to exert influence I would be grateful.

Yours faithfully,
Mohamed Helmy

Thank you for your message, Professor Paolo.

Does ICL not have any say or influence on what is going on at NTU-ICL? Is it acceptable for ICL to be associated with, indeed have their name on an institution which engages in gross research and academic misconduct, illegal animal experiments, demoralisation of students, overt financial mismanagement of grant money, and criminal abuse of employees who are forced to report this misconduct?

NTU-ICL is an 'autonomous institute' and I am starting to believe this means 'above the law' though formally I understand it should indicate 'self-regulation'. What I expect from ICL is to hold their colleagues, collaborators, and corporate partners at NTU-ICL accountable for research and academic activity per NTU-ICL policy. Corrective action does not require a legal mechanism, for example addressing slander of the affiliation, it may occur within our community, or am I misled regarding our community's priorities?

Research and academic misconduct at Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine,
Nanyang Technological University-Imperial College London, Singapore

Please find attached Misconduct_LKCmedicine_NTU_ICL_SG.pdf collating putatively systemic research and academic misconduct at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG, and in collaborations including the School of Biological Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, National University of Singapore, National Neuroscience Institute in Singapore, and A*STAR.

In Part I of this document evidence is presented of gross misconduct perpetrated by a core of 16 Principal Investigators in Singapore. The so-called 'Dementia Consortium' took S$19.4 million of Singapore's money in a grant probably called AcRF Tier 3 Defining the brain circuitry defects that cause dementia; due to systemic obfuscation practiced by the perpetrators this information cannot be verified from what the perpetrators chose to disclose. The grant was announced in 2018 and again in 2020. This grant, apparently allocated for developing resources in Singapore, was not used for the intended purpose. Arguably, nothing demonstrable and of note was done with the money.

Ancillary findings in Part I include that individuals who are meant to safeguard due process and the integrity of human and animal research activity in Singapore are the same individuals who are breaching it, such as violations of publisher guidelines in the editorial practice of the Head of the 'Dementia Consortium' who is a professor at LKCmedicine NTU-ICL SG, a celebrated neurologist affiliated in one way or another with almost all institutes of research and higher education in Singapore as well as the Singapore Ministry of Health, National University Health System, so on, and who absurdly discloses financial and conflict of interest declarations in publications and in relation to major pharmaceutical corporations; a faculty member who is also on the animal ethics board and so his role in potentially approving his own meagre and substandard work and that of others in the 'Dementia Consortium' is unknown; a faculty member who appears to have two personas at nothing less than the National University of Singapore - assuming that is not the case we should not be in a situation where this is even contemplable; a long-standing head of department also at nothing less than the National University of Singapore who appears to be running a thesis mill; and a student at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG who claimed she had attained a doctorate while under the supervision of one Principal Investigator, and after publishing one review article with a second PI, and a bizarre article with a third PI, and she had not produced a doctoral thesis. These are just few examples.

In Part II evidence is presented of gross misconduct in the research and education activities of two faculty members of Nanyang Technological University and over a period of about a decade. These individuals have been receiving grants, producing extremely substandard work rife with indisputable scientific evidence of misconduct, duplicating this substandard work in articles published in indexed and non-indexed scientific journals and doctoral theses, obfuscating this substandard work in scientific terminology and incommensurate statistics, misreporting or forging administrative details such as official experimental protocol, grant details, and metadata in the Nanyang Technological University repository (DR-NTU), and subverting efforts towards quality education and research in Singapore by demoralizing bachelor degree students. The co-authors of these two individuals received monies and credit for questionable work produced at Nanyang Technological University, and it is unclear if these co-authors were even in Singapore at the purported time of production of said substandard and duplicated work. Some bachelor degree students showed admirable resistance to dishonest work in their final year projects.

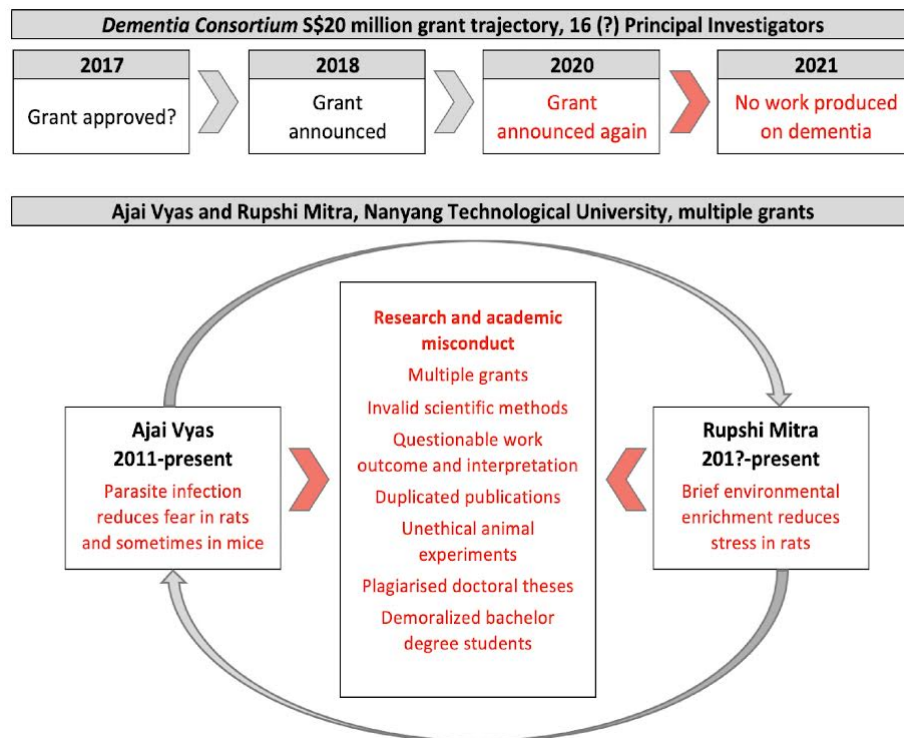

Part III is conflict of interest disclosure by the author.

The quantity of resources which must have been thrown to silence, harass, and evict me is flattering. If the addressees are in a position to exert influence I would be grateful.

Yours faithfully,
Mohamed Helmy

Dear Professor Paolo,

The only reaction thus far is yours, Sir.

I see addressing hundreds of people was a mistake. It was perhaps my reaction to the vicious efforts by Nanyang Technological University to silence me, I am sure you understand. May you please guide me on whom to address? I was thinking to send the initial reports on misconduct sent to NTU Research Integrity Officer Professor Roderick Wayland Bates and Professor Bates' dismissive reply to Professor Jennings, Mr. Neilson, and Professor Bates' doctoral supervisor, Professor Ley, and a cc to you with your permission. If you may recommend an alternative course of action I will of course follow your advice.

Thank you for your message, Professor Paolo.

Does ICL not have any say or influence on what is going on at NTU-ICL? Is it acceptable for ICL to be associated with, indeed have their name on an institution which engages in gross research and academic misconduct, illegal animal experiments, demoralisation of students, overt financial mismanagement of grant money, and criminal abuse of employees who are forced to report this misconduct?

NTU-ICL is an 'autonomous institute' and I am starting to believe this means 'above the law' though formally I understand it should indicate 'self-regulation'. What I expect from ICL is to hold their colleagues, collaborators, and corporate partners at NTU-ICL accountable for research and academic activity per NTU-ICL policy. Corrective action does not require a legal mechanism, for example addressing slander of the affiliation, it may occur within our community, or am I misled regarding our community's priorities?

Research and academic misconduct at Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine,
Nanyang Technological University-Imperial College London, Singapore

Please find attached Misconduct_LKCmedicine_NTU_ICL_SG.pdf collating putatively systemic research and academic misconduct at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG, and in collaborations including the School of Biological Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, National University of Singapore, National Neuroscience Institute in Singapore, and A*STAR.

In Part I of this document evidence is presented of gross misconduct perpetrated by a core of 16 Principal Investigators in Singapore. The so-called 'Dementia Consortium' took S$19.4 million of Singapore's money in a grant probably called AcRF Tier 3 Defining the brain circuitry defects that cause dementia; due to systemic obfuscation practiced by the perpetrators this information cannot be verified from what the perpetrators chose to disclose. The grant was announced in 2018 and again in 2020. This grant, apparently allocated for developing resources in Singapore, was not used for the intended purpose. Arguably, nothing demonstrable and of note was done with the money.

Ancillary findings in Part I include that individuals who are meant to safeguard due process and the integrity of human and animal research activity in Singapore are the same individuals who are breaching it, such as violations of publisher guidelines in the editorial practice of the Head of the 'Dementia Consortium' who is a professor at LKCMedicine NTU-ICL SG, a celebrated neurologist affiliated in one way or another with almost all institutes of research and higher education in Singapore as well as the Singapore Ministry of Health, National University Health System, so on, and who absurdly discloses financial and conflict of interest declarations in publications and in relation to major pharmaceutical corporations; a faculty member who is also on the animal ethics board and so his role in potentially approving his own meagre and substandard work and that of others in the 'Dementia Consortium' is unknown; a faculty member who appears to have two personas at nothing less than the National University of Singapore - assuming that is not the case we should not be in a situation where this is even contemplable; a long-standing head of department also at nothing less than the National University of Singapore who appears to be running a thesis mill; and a student at LKCMedicine, NTU-ICL, SG who claimed she had attained a doctorate while under the supervision of one Principal Investigator, and after publishing one review article with a second PI, and a bizarre article with a third PI, and she had not produced a doctoral thesis. These are just few examples.

In Part II evidence is presented of gross misconduct in the research and education activities of two faculty members of Nanyang Technological University and over a period of about a decade. These individuals have been receiving grants, producing extremely substandard work rife with indisputable scientific evidence of misconduct, duplicating this substandard work in articles published in indexed and non-indexed scientific journals and doctoral theses, obfuscating this substandard work in scientific terminology and incommensurate statistics, misreporting or forging administrative details such as official experimental protocol, grant details, and metadata in the Nanyang Technological University repository (DR-NTU), and subverting efforts towards quality education and research in Singapore by demoralizing bachelor degree students. The co-authors of these two individuals received monies and credit for questionable work produced at Nanyang Technological University, and it is unclear if these co-authors were even in Singapore at the purported time of production of said substandard and duplicated work. Some bachelor degree students showed admirable resistance to dishonest work in their final year projects.

Part III is conflict of interest disclosure by the author.

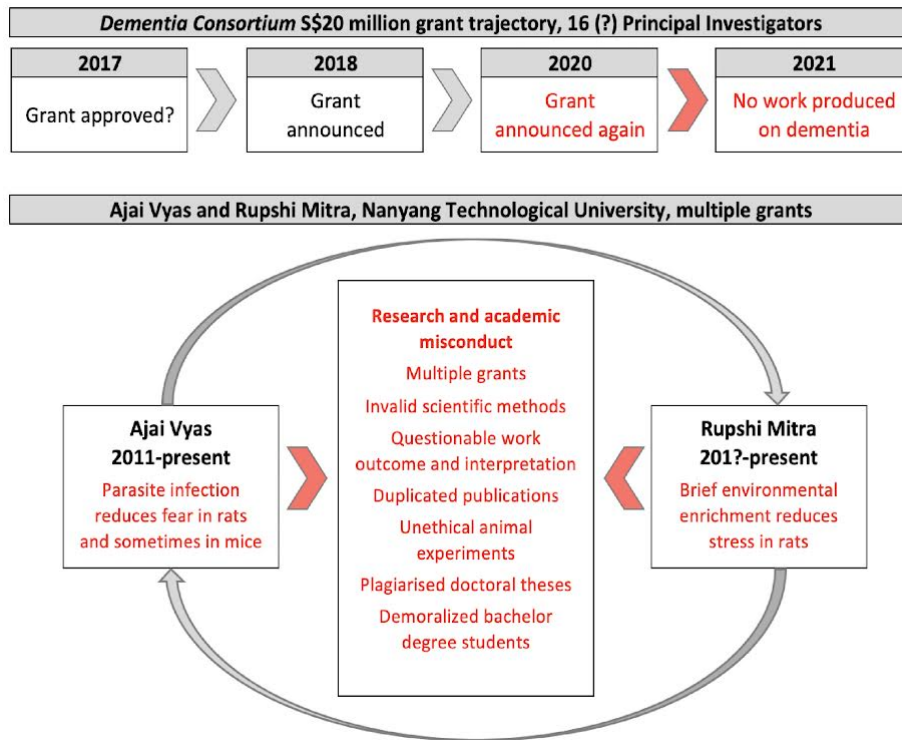

The quantity of resources which must have been thrown to silence, harass, and evict me is flattering. If the addressees are in a position to exert influence I would be grateful.

Yours faithfully,
Mohamed Helmy

Dear Mr Helmy,

I am writing in response to your recent emails concerning your complaints about staff at Nanyang Technical University (NTU) Singapore.

As your complaints are not concerned with any members of Imperial College London, we are not in a position to investigate your complaints or to assist you in any other way. I realise this will be disappointing news for you, but complaints about NTU staff can only properly be considered by NTU itself, or by the authorities in Singapore. I understand that your complaints are currently being reviewed by NTU.

As this is not a matter for Imperial College London I would be grateful if you would kindly refrain from sending messages to large numbers of Imperial College staff, none of whom have any responsibility for handling your complaints.

Kind regards

Jon Hancock

Research and academic misconduct at Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine,
Nanyang Technological University-Imperial College London, Singapore

Please find attached Misconduct_LKCmedicine_NTU_ICL_SG.pdf collating putatively systemic research and academic misconduct at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG, and in collaborations including the School of Biological Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, National University of Singapore, National Neuroscience Institute in Singapore, and A*STAR.

In Part I of this document evidence is presented of gross misconduct perpetrated by a core of 16 Principal Investigators in Singapore. The so-called 'Dementia Consortium' took S$19.4 million of Singapore's money in a grant probably called AcRF Tier 3 Defining the brain circuitry defects that cause dementia; due to systemic obfuscation practiced by the perpetrators this information cannot be verified from what the perpetrators chose to disclose. The grant was announced in 2018 and again in 2020. This grant, apparently allocated for developing resources in Singapore, was not used for the intended purpose. Arguably, nothing demonstrable and of note was done with the money.

Ancillary findings in Part I include that individuals who are meant to safeguard due process and the integrity of human and animal research activity in Singapore are the same individuals who are breaching it, such as violations of publisher guidelines in the editorial practice of the Head of the 'Dementia Consortium' who is a professor at LKCmedicine NTU-ICL SG, a celebrated neurologist affiliated in one way or another with almost all institutes of research and higher education in Singapore as well as the Singapore Ministry of Health, National University Health System, so on, and who absurdly discloses financial and conflict of interest declarations in publications and in relation to major pharmaceutical corporations; a faculty member who is also on the animal ethics board and so his role in potentially approving his own meagre and substandard work and that of others in the 'Dementia Consortium' is unknown; a faculty member who appears to have two personas at nothing less than the National University of Singapore - assuming that is not the case we should not be in a situation where this is even contemptable; a long-standing head of department also at nothing less than the National University of Singapore who appears to be running a thesis mill; and a student at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG who claimed she had attained a doctorate while under the supervision of one Principal Investigator, and after publishing one review article with a second PI, and a bizarre article with a third PI, and she had not produced a doctoral thesis. These are just few examples.

In Part II evidence is presented of gross misconduct in the research and education activities of two faculty members of Nanyang Technological University and over a period of about a decade. These individuals have been receiving grants, producing extremely substandard work rife with indisputable scientific evidence of misconduct, duplicating this substandard work in articles published in indexed and non-indexed scientific journals and doctoral theses, obfuscating this substandard work in scientific terminology and incommensurate statistics, misreporting or forging administrative details such as official experimental protocol, grant details, and metadata in the Nanyang Technological University repository (DR-NTU), and subverting efforts towards quality education and research in Singapore by demoralizing bachelor degree students. The co-authors of these two individuals received monies and credit for questionable work produced at Nanyang Technological University, and it is unclear if these co-authors were even in Singapore at the purported time of production of said substandard and duplicated work. Some bachelor degree students showed admirable resistance to dishonest work in their final year projects.

Part III is conflict of interest disclosure by the author.

The quantity of resources which must have been thrown to silence, harass, and evict me is flattering. If the addressees are in a position to exert influence I would be grateful.

Yours faithfully,

Mohamed Helmy

Dear Mr. Hancock,

Thank you kindly for your thoughtful message.

NTU Human Resources insist on disregarding civil and academic norms as part of an offensive and puerile style of communication. Since you do not receive instructions from NTU, I assume your addressing me as 'Mr' was an honest mistake.

Before submitting a report to NTU on misconduct by my then-Reporting Officer, Rupshi Mitra, I spoke informally with Professor Lars Nordenskiöld, Chair of the School of Biological Sciences. If nothing else, this demonstrates my understanding that containment was a priority. At the end of our meeting, his exact words to me were: "If you do not report this misconduct, I will, and if I have reason to terminate you, I will."

I was under the impression that corrective action against illegal animal experiments, unethical clinical trials, financial misconduct, and demoralization of students are priorities in addition to containment, I was wrong. NTU's priorities are containment, and silencing of any attempt to pursue corrective action using brute force and criminal activity including harassment, forgery, and extortion.

My appeal to ICL was not in the context of direct responsibility to handle my complaint. I believed ICL may hold their colleagues, collaborators, and corporate partners at NTU-ICL accountable for research and academic activity per NTU-ICL policy. Corrective action does not require a legal mechanism, for example addressing slander of the affiliation. It may occur within our community, or am I misled regarding our community's priorities? What is your opinion on the professionalism, responsibility, and 'integrity' shown by your counterpart at NTU and NTU-ICL, Professor Bates, and who attained his doctorate at ICL? It is regrettable that you are not in his place, this mess could have been avoided. Importantly, it could have been handled sensitively and quietly, as I so much desired and worked hard and very carefully towards, risking my position which was in any case removed. Since corrective action is blocked by stakeholders at NTU, the responsibility is shifted to the community and I will refrain from sending emails to large numbers of ICL staff.

I would not be disappointed if NTU are indeed currently reviewing my case.

Once more thank you for your message and support.

Kind regards,

Dear Mr Helmy,

I am writing in response to your recent emails concerning your complaints about staff at Nanyang Technical University (NTU) Singapore.

As your complaints are not concerned with any members of Imperial College London, we are not in a position to investigate your complaints or to assist you in any other way. I realise this will be disappointing news for you, but complaints about NTU staff can only properly be considered by NTU itself, or by the authorities in Singapore. I understand that your complaints are currently being reviewed by NTU.

As this is not a matter for Imperial College London I would be grateful if you would kindly refrain from sending messages to large numbers of Imperial College staff, none of whom have any responsibility for handling your complaints.

Kind regards

Jon Hancock

Research and academic misconduct at Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine,
Nanyang Technological University-Imperial College London, Singapore

Please find attached Misconduct_LKCmedicine_NTU_ICL_SG.pdf collating putatively systemic research and academic misconduct at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG, and in collaborations including the School of Biological Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, National University of Singapore, National Neuroscience Institute in Singapore, and A*STAR.

In Part I of this document evidence is presented of gross misconduct perpetrated by a core of 16 Principal Investigators in Singapore. The so-called 'Dementia Consortium' took S$19.4 million of Singapore's money in a grant probably called AcRF Tier 3 Defining the brain circuitry defects that cause dementia; due to systemic obfuscation practiced by the perpetrators this information cannot be verified from what the perpetrators chose to disclose. The grant was announced in 2018 and again in 2020. This grant, apparently allocated for developing resources in Singapore, was not used for the intended purpose. Arguably, nothing demonstrable and of note was done with the money.

Ancillary findings in Part I include that individuals who are meant to safeguard due process and the integrity of human and animal research activity in Singapore are the same individuals who are breaching it, such as violations of publisher guidelines in the editorial practice of the Head of the 'Dementia Consortium' who is a professor at LKCmedicine NTU-ICL SG, a celebrated neurologist affiliated in one way or another with almost all institutes of research and higher education in Singapore as well as the Singapore Ministry of Health, National University Health System, so on, and who absurdly discloses financial and conflict of interest declarations in publications and in relation to major pharmaceutical corporations; a faculty member who is also on the animal ethics board and so his role in potentially approving his own meagre and substandard work and that of others in the 'Dementia Consortium' is unknown; a faculty member who appears to have two personas at nothing less than the National University of Singapore - assuming that is not the case we should not be in a situation where this is even contemplable; a long-standing head of department also at nothing less than the National University of Singapore who appears to be running a thesis mill; and a student at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG who claimed she had attained a doctorate while under the supervision of one Principal Investigator, and after publishing one review article with a second PI, and a bizarre article with a third PI, and she had not produced a doctoral thesis. These are just few examples.

In Part II evidence is presented of gross misconduct in the research and education activities of two faculty members of Nanyang Technological University and over a period of about a decade. These individuals have been receiving grants, producing extremely substandard work rife with indisputable scientific evidence of misconduct, duplicating this substandard work in articles published in indexed and non-indexed scientific journals and doctoral theses, obfuscating this substandard work in scientific terminology and incommensurate statistics, misreporting or forging administrative details such as official experimental protocol, grant details, and metadata in the Nanyang Technological University repository (DR-NTU), and subverting efforts towards quality education and research in Singapore by demoralizing bachelor degree students. The co-authors of these two individuals received monies and credit for questionable work produced at Nanyang Technological University, and it is unclear if these co-authors were even in Singapore at the purported time of production of said substandard and duplicated work. Some bachelor degree students showed admirable resistance to dishonest work in their final year projects.

Part III is conflict of interest disclosure by the author.

The quantity of resources which must have been thrown to silence, harass, and evict me is flattering. If the addressees are in a position to exert influence I would be grateful.

Yours faithfully,

Mohamed Helmy

Dear Professor Paolo,

I am grateful to you, for your decency and understanding.

A quick look through your work is inspiring. I love it. Finally, work on exposome that actually makes sense and is going somewhere! I'd been looking in the wrong place....

If you are coming to Singapore, Sir, or planning a trip to Egypt, please let me know.

Happy Chinese New Year of the Bull!

Warm regards,
Helmy

P.S. And I like your photo too. You look kind and wise.

Dear Professor Paolo,

The only reaction thus far is yours, Sir.

I see addressing hundreds of people was a mistake. It was perhaps my reaction to the vicious efforts by Nanyang Technological University to silence me, I am sure you understand. May you please guide me on whom to address? I was thinking to send the initial reports on misconduct sent to NTU Research Integrity Officer Professor Roderick Wayland Bates and Professor Bates' dismissive reply to Professor Jennings, Mr. Neilson, and Professor Bates' doctoral supervisor, Professor Ley, and a cc to you with your permission. If you may recommend an alternative course of action I will of course follow your advice.

Thank you for your message, Professor Paolo.

Does ICL not have any say or influence on what is going on at NTU-ICL? Is it acceptable for ICL to be associated with, indeed have their name on an institution which engages in gross research and academic misconduct, illegal animal experiments, demoralisation of students, overt financial mismanagement of grant money, and criminal abuse of employees who are forced to report this misconduct?

NTU-ICL is an 'autonomous institute' and I am starting to believe this means 'above the law' though formally I understand it should indicate 'self-regulation'. What I expect from ICL is to hold their colleagues, collaborators, and corporate partners at NTU-ICL accountable for research and academic activity per NTU-ICL policy. Corrective action does not require a legal mechanism, for example addressing slander of the affiliation, it may occur within our community, or am I misled regarding our community's priorities?

Research and academic misconduct at Lee Kong Chian School of Medicine,
Nanyang Technological University-Imperial College London, Singapore

Please find attached Misconduct_LKCmedicine_NTU_ICL_SG.pdf collating putatively systemic research and academic misconduct at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG, and in collaborations including the School of Biological Sciences, Nanyang Technological University, National University of Singapore, National Neuroscience Institute in Singapore, and A*STAR.

In Part I of this document evidence is presented of gross misconduct perpetrated by a core of 16 Principal Investigators in Singapore. The so-called 'Dementia Consortium' took S$19.4 million of Singapore's money in a grant probably called AcRF Tier 3 Defining the brain circuitry defects that cause dementia; due to systemic obfuscation practiced by the perpetrators this information cannot be verified from what the perpetrators chose to disclose. The grant was announced in 2018 and again in 2020. This grant, apparently allocated for developing resources in Singapore, was not used for the intended purpose. Arguably, nothing demonstrable and of note was done with the money.

Ancillary findings in Part I include that individuals who are meant to safeguard due process and the integrity of human and animal research activity in Singapore are the same individuals who are breaching it, such as violations of publisher guidelines in the editorial practice of the Head of the 'Dementia Consortium' who is a professor at LKCmedicine NTU-ICL SG, a celebrated neurologist affiliated in one way or another with almost all institutes of research and higher education in Singapore as well as the Singapore Ministry of Health, National University Health System, so on, and who absurdly discloses financial and conflict of interest declarations in publications and in relation to major pharmaceutical corporations; a faculty member who is also on the animal ethics board and so his role in potentially approving his own meagre and substandard work and that of others in the 'Dementia Consortium' is unknown; a faculty member who appears to have two personas at nothing less than the National University of Singapore - assuming that is not the case we should not be in a situation where this is even contemplable; a long-standing head of department also at nothing less than the National University of Singapore who appears to be running a thesis mill; and a student at LKCmedicine, NTU-ICL, SG who claimed she had attained a doctorate while under the supervision of one Principal Investigator, and after publishing one review article with a second PI, and a bizarre article with a third PI, and she had not produced a doctoral thesis. These are just few examples.

In Part II evidence is presented of gross misconduct in the research and education activities of two faculty members of Nanyang Technological University and over a period of about a decade. These individuals have been receiving grants, producing extremely substandard work rife with indisputable scientific evidence of misconduct, duplicating this substandard work in articles published in indexed and non-indexed scientific journals and doctoral theses, obfuscating this substandard work in scientific terminology and incommensurate statistics, misreporting or forging administrative details such as official experimental protocol, grant details, and metadata in the Nanyang Technological University repository (DR-NTU), and subverting efforts towards quality education and research in Singapore by demoralizing bachelor degree students. The co-authors of these two individuals received monies and credit for questionable work produced at Nanyang Technological University, and it is unclear if these co-authors were even in Singapore at the purported time of production of said substandard and duplicated work. Some bachelor degree students showed admirable resistance to dishonest work in their final year projects.

Part III is conflict of interest disclosure by the author.

The quantity of resources which must have been thrown to silence, harass, and evict me is flattering. If the addressees are in a position to exert influence I would be grateful.

Yours faithfully,
Mohamed Helmy
